Among the array of international figures expected for the signing ceremonies Monday afternoon will be U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant. He has been invited to fly to Moscow to witness the signing.

Patrolman Stip Resigns to Take Job in Florida

Patrolman Frank Stip, of 38 Pine Grove Avenue, a veteran of six years' service in the Kingston Police Department, has resigned to join the Hollywood, Fla. force.

He submitted his resignation to Chief Robert F. Murphy Friday afternoon. He will start his duties in Hollywood Aug. 8.

A native of New York City, Officer Stip came to Kingston in 1955, and until he joined the force on Aug. 1, 1957 was a driver for Mist Maid Fashions on Cornell Street.

A considerable part of his service on the local force was on motorcycle patrol. He served two years in the U. S. Navy during the Korean War.

Stip is married to the former Nathalie Lass, of New York City. They have three children, Karen, 10; Francis, 7, and Gail, 6.

Chief Praises Officer

Chief Murphy said Stip's resignation leaves the department 11 men short. The police board is awaiting an eligibility list expected to be submitted soon by the Municipal Civil Service Commission. The list is not expected, however, to contain enough names to compensate fully for the department's loss in personnel.

Ten other men left the department in 1962 and in earlier months this year.

Murphy had high praise for Stip and the patrolman's service record. He said it was difficult to replace men of Stip's caliber.

Oneida Welfare Saves $22,500 in Cropping Program

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—The Oneida County welfare commissioner says his department will save $22,500 in welfare payments as a result of a three-month cropping program.

Commissioner Michael J. McGuire said Friday that 75 men have been cut from the relief rolls since the program began in June.

More than half of the 75 disappeared from their homes or turned in unsatisfactory work and were non-cooperative, McGuire said.

Only seven of the 126 men originally assigned to the work project.

North Korea Marauders Warned by UN Command

Complete Hearing on Rights Plan Committees Will Write Bills Soon

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's civil rights program has passed the first turn in the long, winding road toward enactment—completion of lengthy hearings by two congressional committees.

The committees are expected to start writing their bills soon.

The prospect in the House is that the floor battle over civil rights legislation won't be joined until after Labor Day. The outlook in the Senate is even cloudier.

The House Judiciary Committee concluded three months of hearings on the President's seven-point program Friday while the Senate Commerce Committee was winding up five weeks of hearings on one plank—a bill to prohibit racial discrimination in places of public accommodations.

Separate Sections

The accommodations section was separated from the rest of the program in the Senate in an effort for quicker action than could be expected from the Senate Judiciary Committee, long the burial ground for civil rights measures. The committee has been holding hearings on the other points with no sign of a wind-up in view.

Commerce Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., will decide when his group is to start its closed deliberations. Magnuson, who has been ill, is expected to set an early date.

On the House side, Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said his group would not start its work on the legislation for a couple of weeks. And the word from House leaders was that the tax reduction and revision bill would be brought up for action ahead of civil rights.

Passage Imperative

When the Commerce Committee began its hearings on July 1, its members were told by the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, that passage of the accommodations measure is imperative "to remove a daily insult to Negroes."

Opponents, including five Southern governors, attacked the bill as unconstitutional, as an invasion of property rights and as likely to worsen rather than improve race relations.

The public accommodations measure would apply to hotels, motels, theaters, restaurants, retail stores and other privately owned businesses serving the general public.

Youths Sought After Attacks on Three Local Men

Three men reportedly were beaten by teenagers in two separate incidents early today.

Police said Connie Warren, 52, of Abel Street, formerly of Binghamton, said he and Joseph C. Baylor, 56, of Ansonia, Conn., were beaten up at the old West Shore Railroad station on Railroad Avenue for no apparent reason.

Both men suffered extensive cuts and bruises, mainly about the head and face, blackened eyes. Their condition was reported as satisfactory in Kingston Hospital, where they were taken by Fatum's ambulance. Patrol-

Hurricane Arlene Whips Up Atlantic, Damage Is Slight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Arlene, the first of the season, whipped the tropical Atlantic with winds of 100 miles an hour today, but caused little damage.

She was 925 miles east-southeast of San Juan, P.R., a safe distance from densely inhabited islands and heavily traveled shipping lanes.

One small craft reported itself in trouble north of Puerto Rico, but at last check she was being escorted to port by a Coast Guard vessel.

At dawn, the Weather Bureau said Arlene was moving west-northwest at 12 m.p.h.

Winds up to 100 miles per hour whirled around a small area near the center and gale force winds extended 175 miles in the northern semicircle and 75 miles in the southern semicircle.

More Arms Fire Noted Near Line

Clash Is Reported But No Casualties

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—Amid reports of new fighting on the uneasy Korean truce line, the U.N. Command warned today that Communist North Korea must curb its "bloodthirsty marauders" immediately or it will invite its own destruction.

Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, senior delegate from the U.N. Command on the armistice commission, charged the North Koreans with deliberate, malicious assaults in U.N.-controlled territory which have killed three Americans and wounded a fourth since July 29.

North Korea brushed aside the charges as "fabrications" in one of the hottest exchanges in 10 years of armistice commission meetings.

Earlier Cloud said Communist troops had intruded into the U.N. Command portion of the demilitarized zone at 4:30 a.m. today and fresh firing had broken out between American and Communist troops.

500 Yards South of Line

Cloud said the clash had taken place about 500 yards south of the military demarcation line running through the center of the demilitarized zone. He did not elaborate and mentioned no casualties.

An American officer told newsmen outside the armistice meeting that he had thrown eight hand grenades in the latest reported clash. He said an American patrol had been flanked in the fighting and forced to withdraw.

From this officer's account, it appeared there were no casualties on either side.

Cloud, a Marine, said 50 Soviet-made cartridge cases had been found at the scene along with an unexploded Soviet-type grenade. Two hand grenades exploded, he said.

Started July 29

The U.N. side called the armistice commission meeting to accuse the Communists of a series of provocations that began July 29 when a U.N. jeep was ambushed in U.N. territory. Two Americans were killed and a third wounded.

The next day a fourth American soldier and a South Korean policeman were killed in a clash directly south of the first ambush. Four North Korean soldiers were slain in this encounter.

Cloud called the incidents a Communist "route of terror and bloodshed."

Outlines Warning

Then he warned: "If it is not your side's intention to destroy itself, I demand that you take the following actions without delay:

"1. Prevent your bloodthirsty marauders from entering our portion of the DMZ (demilitarized zone) and the territory under the control of our side.

"2. Take immediate steps to keep your murdering bandits under control and on your side of the military demarcation line.

"3. Punish severely all those killers of your side who participated in these intrusions, ambushes and murders.

"4. Punish those leaders of your side who planned and ordered such bestial, unprovoked actions.

"5. Begin complying with every provision of the armistice agreement which your side has so flagrantly violated for over 10 years.

"The patience of the people of Korea, the U.N. Command and the world is not without limits. I demand that your side provide positive assurances that these provocations will cease and that your side will begin to comply with the armistice agreement," signed July 27, 1953.

Gen. Chong Hwang Chang, the North Korean delegate, said his side had investigated the charges, which he called "fabrications."

Search Continues In Hudson Valley For Missing Plane

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Search pilots focused their efforts today on the Hudson Valley in a hunt for a small plane missing since Tuesday with two men aboard.

More than 20 planes out of airports near Poughkeepsie and Albany have participated in the search for a single-engine, blue and white Cessna that was reported missing early Tuesday.

Aboard the plane that left Albany for Long Island were William Rosed, 47, of Nesconset, the pilot, and Peter Martinez, 21, of Ronkonkoma.

It was feared the possibility of finding the two men alive was remote.

Contends Educators Shirked Obligations

John H. Deegan, 155 Pearl Street, a candidate for trustee in the recent May 8 Board of Education election, has labeled Dr. Earl F. Soper and Dr. Norman Schwartz as men who have "disregarded the moral obligation responsibility demands."

The statement was made in a letter to "fellow taxpayers" via The Freeman dated August 2, and concerned the resignations of Dr. Soper as Superintendent of Kingston City Schools (Consolidated) and Dr. Schwartz as principal of the new J. Watson Bailey Junior High School. Both educators will assume new positions on Long Island in the fall semester.

In the board election in which Deegan was a candidate, Sam S. Pepper and Hubert Hoderath won the trustee positions. Other candidates included John R. Shults, John Collins Troy, Henry P. Elghmei and Dr. George Braunstein.

Deegan said that in view of the announced resignation of Dr. Schwartz he felt that a "few comments, which I trust will be considered constructive by most taxpayers, are in order."

"It might interest some of you to know a few facts about this entire matter, which while known by me during the recent school election, were voluntarily kept out of the realm of campaign issues in deference to Dr. Schwartz' future in our school system. Now that he has publicly exhibited what I consider to be a complete disregard to his responsibilities to our system, I feel obligated to make these things public.

Confusing Situation
"First of all, your school board hired Dr. Schwartz, who was recommended by Dr. Soper, at a salary of $12,500. Their first official act upon hiring this man was to grant him one month's vacation, with pay. Their generosity with your money has been now repaid. So once again we have yet another crisis in the life of our local school system.

Could Get 5 Years
He could draw as much as five years in prison.

Week in Business
Darden Chambliss, Associated Press business writer, covers the past week's economy picture in a feature on page 12.

Assaults Both Men
"You certainly cannot call two rapid resignations by two of our highest professional educators in the system a trend, none the less let's review a bit more. Dr. Soper, whom many hailed as the greatest educator to join the local school system, did exactly as Dr. Schwartz did, i.e. comply with his 30-day resignation clause in these contracts, quit, and this less than two months after he had just accepted his new contract with the board. In leaving, he left us with consolation, which was not enthusiastically endorsed by a real majority of the taxpayers, thus increased the overhead costs of our system, increased our taxes, and along the way, divided the town into two factions. Now the piece de resistance—Dr. Schwartz is leaving Kingston, to join Dr. Soper's staff in Long Beach, True, both men did comply with the 30 day notice, but in my opinion both men disregarded the moral obligation responsibility demands. I personally find it difficult to interpret this as an enviable record.

"And now Dr. Schwartz also accepts that which appears to be expedient only to himself, and again complete disregard to his obligations and responsibilities here. I must state here that I think it would be unfair to any person employed by the school

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODIE ISHMAEL

Dr. Frank C. Laubach has dedicated his life to spreading the light of Christianity to the millions of underprivileged illiterates throughout the world.

His missionary career began in the Philippines in 1915 and a few years later he developed his picture-word literacy charts. He has worked out, in 312 languages, a simple system of phonetic charts—a picture language through which uneducated people learn to read in their own language.

In 1930 he originated the volunteer method of promoting literacy known as "each one teach one." As a result, more than 60 million people in India, Africa, Korea and Latin America have learned to read in their own language.

Dr. Laubach's primary motive is to spread the gospel, and he believes "every Christian needs to read his Bible." He has presented the story of Jesus in over 100 languages.

Your Life and Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

On Sawing Sawdust

Some years ago Fred Fuller Shed paused in the midst of a commencement address and asked the class: "How many of you ever sawed wood? Let's see your hands." Most of the hands went up. Then he inquired: "How many of you ever sawed sawdust?" No hands went up.

Of course you can't saw sawdust," Mr. Shed explained, "It's already sawed! And the same with the past. When you start worrying about things that are over and done with, you're merely trying to saw sawdust."

It would, I think, be safe to assume that all of us at one time or another are guilty of trying to saw sawdust. So often we dissipate our available energies, and resources for living, by worrying about what is past and gone. There is an abundance of very dependable counsel in that old saying: "Let bygones be bygones." If by worrying and fretting we could do anything about the bygones it would be a different matter. But we can't. We cannot take a re-run on life, or back up and live over the days in which we made our tragic blunders or missed our precious opportunities. Hence it is the saddest of mistakes to use up present moments in saving the sawdust of the past. President Eisenhower summed it up well when he said: "I know of nothing so futile as regret."

The only wisdom, therefore, for us is humbly to beg for the forgiving mercy of heaven to cover our past sins, and blunders—and a frightful blindness to priceless opportunity; and to move forward into each new day girded by the determination to make the most, and the best, of the hours that lie ahead. Paul of old stated this great principle—the principle by which he himself lived—thus: "Forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus."

Horace Fletcher once made this comment about anger and worry. "Anger and worry," he said, "are the most unprofitable conditions known to man. While they are in possession, mental, physical and spiritual growth are suspended. . . . Anger is a highway robber and worry is a sneak thief."

Guest Musicians To Take Part in Hymnsing Sunday

Featured musicians to be heard Sunday 3 p. m. at the Community Hymnsing at Academy Green, include Harry Thomas of Philadelphia, a student at Houghton College, who plays electric guitar. He will sing a solo number, and two duets with Terry McLaughlin of Saugerties.

Congregational singing will be led by George Shaver, and the electric organ will be played for all numbers, by Gilbert Cicio. They work together regularly in all services at the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

Quartet numbers will be offered by the New Paltz Nazarene Church and by the Alliance. George Ronk of the New Paltz Church will also sing a solo number. "I'd Rather Have Jesus" will be a solo number by Mrs. Donald Moreland of Catskill.

The Phoenicia Baptist Church will offer a number by a choral group of young people, and there will be numbers from the Bethel Assembly of God and the local Nazarene Church.

Mrs. Marianne Williams and James Nerone will sing a duet, "Now I Belong to Jesus."

There is no preaching, and no offering is received. The event is sponsored by the Hudson Valley Evangelical Ministerial Association. The chairman is the Rev. Willard D. Crunkilton.

A public address system will be used, and seating will be provided. The public may attend.

Tourists Find Church Comforts At Yellowstone

By PAUL ALBRIGHT

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—The thousands of sunbaked tourists pouring into this Wyoming wonderland of geysers, waterfalls and wildlife are finding a dedicated band of young persons striving to bring the teachings of Christ closer through the natural miracles around them.

"We try to help the visitor see nature through the cross of Christ," explained the Rev. John A. Lee, 27, resident minister in the park. "Through religious help we want to make their leisure hours here as responsible and creative as their working hours at home."

The Rev. Mr. Lee, a Methodist, said he feels a challenge and satisfaction in tending the cares of the supposedly carefree tourist. He heads a group of 36 college and seminary students who are stationed around the vast park.

Each Sunday through Labor Day, the "worker-witnesses" hold 16 interdenominational worship services. There are Bible schools, discussion groups and recreation programs during the weekdays at the eight most populous areas of Yellowstone.

The Rev. Mr. Lee termed the program of Christian work in the park a growing success. The program, now incorporated in most of the national parks, was started first at Yellowstone in 1951 by a group of Princeton seminarians working for the summer.

Minister to Students

Last summer 20,000 park visitors attended Sunday services. By far the biggest counseling activity is for the hundreds of summer employees—most of them college students.

The young Christian workers, selected by the National Council of Churches, put in a 48-hour work week, and their job is far more varied, rugged and, on occasion, distasteful than for average men of the cloth.

Ramapo Catskill Library System

The Ramapo Catskill Library System of Catskill chartered by the New York State Board of Regents in December 1959, Thursday marked its third anniversary of operations.

Established in August 1960 on West Main Street, the system moved to its present location at 619 North Street the following month.

A progress report showed that the library system staff has increased from its original four to the present 22 over the three-year span. Five professional staff members are responsible for specialized services such as reference, inter-library loan, children's work, bookmobile supervision and adult services.

The system's book collection has grown to 23,149 for rotating to member libraries and 11,175 reference titles to fill the inter-library loan requests. In addition to books, the system provides films and recordings to its 41-member libraries.

While system headquarters does not provide service to readers, but rather serves indirectly through public libraries in Ulster, Orange, Rockland and Sullivan counties, it supplements book collections of cooperating libraries. Thus, through its inter-library loan service, the system makes materials from the entire area easily available. Weekly delivery service expedites the flow of books among member libraries.

Daily teletype contact with the New York State Library brings faster loans of books not available locally. Photocopy is used for magazine and newspaper articles.

Ramapo Catskill Library System is one of 22 such systems in New York State formed to provide maximum library service to all residents. Member libraries maintain their individual autonomy under the system but cooperate for more effective use of library materials.

Paltz Trustees Abolish Office Of Police Chief

New Paltz Village Board members have abolished the position of police chief and asked the County Civil Service Commission to set a date for an examination for police sergeant.

Mayor Henry W. DuBois said Worden Masten, police chief in recent years, will continue as patrolman with Edward Walsh and Henry Tilverman.

Until a sergeant is appointed, the police commissioners will supervise police matters. Mayor DuBois said the sergeant's salary will be $5,000 a year to start, with $200 increments for three years. He noted that if one of the three present patrolmen is not appointed a sergeant, the force may be increased to four men.

Welfare Frauds in State Match National Average

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The percentage of welfare aid distributed for dependent children on a fraudulent or ineligible basis in New York State matched a nationwide average of 5.4 per cent, a federal survey indicates.

Evidence of fraud and other irregularities in New York's $192-million-a-year program of aid to dependent children (ADC) was found in 82 of 1,490 cases studied, or about 5 1/2 per cent, the State Social Welfare Department reported Thursday.

A nationwide review showed that 5.4 per cent of families receiving federal-state aid for dependent children were ineligible—although little fraud was found. The highest percentage of irregularities was reported for West Virginia, 17.3 per cent of the families on the rolls. Eleven states had irregularity rates below 2 per cent—with Montana and North Dakota showing no ineligible families on the rolls.

ADC, the most costly of the several categories under which New York distributes nearly $600 million a year in welfare payments, is aimed at assisting families without a breadwinner. Last year in New York, the monthly case load averaged 88,150 families with a total of 383,623 persons. The average monthly payment was $181.88 a family and $41.79 per person. The federal government paid $91 million of the total cost of the program. State and local welfare districts shared the balance.

The welfare department said the most frequent cause of ineligibility was receipt of income or other benefits from work not reported to the department. Another cause was failure to report that a child for whom aid was being received was no longer in the home.

Most of the irregularities uncovered in the federal survey, the department said, had arisen shortly before the cases came under study and "presumably would have been found at the next regular visit by the local investigator."

Efforts by the City of Newburgh to revamp its welfare program reportedly triggered the federal study.

The study in New York State was conducted during the first six months of this year at a cost of $300,000.

Wounded Man Is Facing Murder, Pleads Innocent

ELMHURST, N.Y. (AP)—A 56-year-old man, suffering from what police said was a self-inflicted chest wound, has been indicted on a charge of first-degree murder in the July 24 slaying of Lawrence B. White.

Police said Harold Bolt pleaded innocent by reason of insanity when he was arraigned Friday at Arnot-Ogden Hospital here. Bolt, in critical condition, was charged with shooting the 48-year-old White, with a .35 caliber rifle as the victim alighted from his car in front of his house in suburban Pine Hill.

Police said Bolt then turned the weapon on himself in an apparent suicide attempt. The Chemung County grand jury returned the indictment. No trial date was set.

Bolt's wife, Lois, and White's wife, Mary, were in the victim's car at the time of the shooting. Neither woman was injured.

No motive for the slaying was given. White lived in nearby Millerton, Pa., about five miles from Pine City across the New York-Pennsylvania state line.

Cornell Hires Former U.N. Indian Spokesman

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur S. Lall, former permanent Indian representative to the United Nations, has arrived from Vienna to take a new job as professor of international affairs at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Asked for comment on the partial nuclear test ban treaty, Lall said Friday night:

It is more a political agreement than a disarmament agreement, but it is a very useful first step.

Lall, who has resigned from the Indian foreign service, expects to take up his duties at Cornell in about a week.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

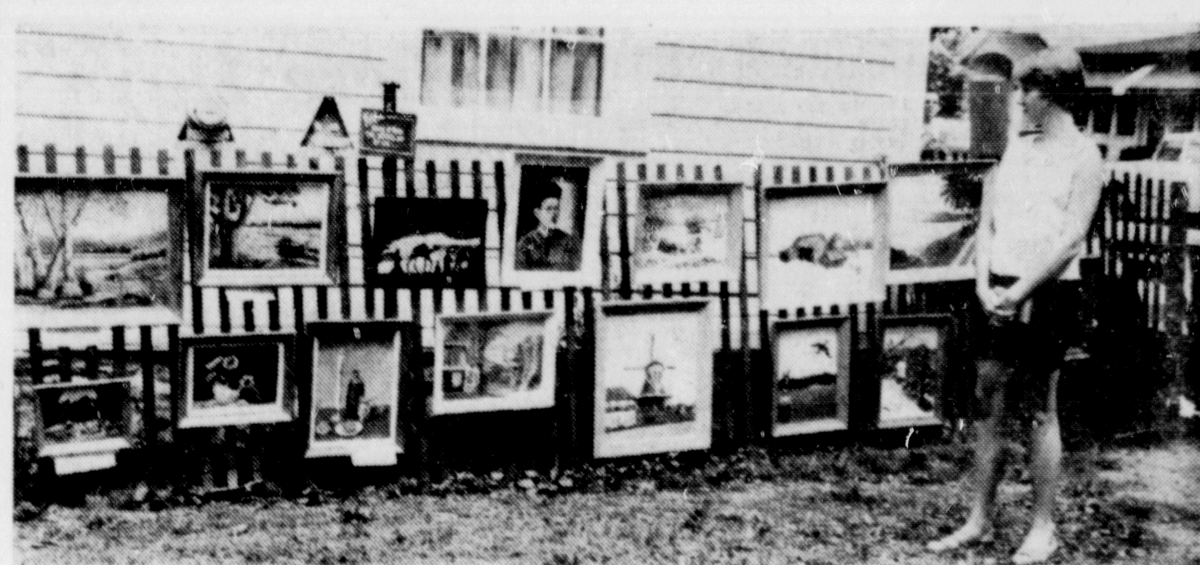

By: Charles L. Culver, State Veteran Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John B. Tyler, Director, Ulster County Veterans Agency, 32 Main Street, Kingston. Summer Office Hours during July and August, 9 to 4 p. m.—FE 8-1111.

Training Leave — Reservists and National Guardsmen are reminded that they must formally request leaves of absence from employers for summer camp training in order to avail themselves of reemployment protection afforded by federal statutes. The request provision is part of recent amendments to the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

The law prohibits employers from requiring employees to take their vacation coincident with summer encampment, but the employees may do so if they so desire. Employers are required to reemploy an individual with such seniority, status, pay and vacation as he would have had if he had not been absent for training purposes.

Reservists and Guardsmen also should be reminded that the law requires them to report back to work at the beginning of the next regularly scheduled work period after expiration of the last calendar day necessary to travel from the place of training to the place of employment.

Pensions—Veterans, their survivors or dependents are offered some advice on occasional problems which arise in the receipt of benefit checks from the VA. Most important, persons receiving checks to which they know they are not entitled should either return them or write to the VA for an explanation. Don't cash the check and spend it in such cases; sooner or later it will have to be repaid. On the other hand, if a veteran receives a check which is smaller in amount than that to which he is entitled, he may accept it and cash it without in any way waiving his right to claim the rightful amount. A veteran's widow who remarries cannot continue receiving death pension, but the pension rights of the veteran's children continue in larger amount. However, any increase due the children cannot be granted until the new certificate of marriage has been received and the VA adjusts and closes the widow's own account. If a veteran prefers, his benefit checks may be sent directly to his bank for deposit to his personal account. This is a convenience.

granted by law for veterans who for one reason or another are not at home when pension checks arrive in the mail.

Pension - Compensation — There is considerable confusion among veterans about the terms "pension" and "compensation." The terms are not interchangeable and there are definite differences.

A veteran's pension is payable to veterans of World War I, WW 2, or the Korean Conflict who is permanently disabled from a disability which is not connected with his service; and which is not the result of the veteran's willful misconduct or vicious habits.

Compensation is payable to veterans of either wartime or peacetime service, who suffer from a disability of 10 per cent or more which is connected with their service. Peacetime veterans who served under conditions equal to that of war, may be entitled to receive compensation at the wartime rate; the peacetime rate amounts to 80 per cent of the wartime rate.

Deadline — The general deadline for vocational rehabilitation training for disabled Korean Conflict veterans has been eliminated. The deadline for completion of such training formerly was Jan. 31, 1964, or nine years after being separated from the armed forces, whichever was earlier. Under terms of law passed by the last Congress, a veteran now has 9 years after discharge from the armed forces in which to complete his training, with no cut off deadline at an earlier date. Eligible disabled Korean Conflict veterans may receive training, of such character and length as necessary to restore their ability to work, up to 4 years and in some cases exceeding 4 years. Before starting their training they must be interviewed and tested to determine their aptitudes and interests. The training will be at government expense and in addition to that the veteran may receive subsistence allowances as well as the disability compensation.

WANTED SPECIAL BOARDING HOME

A special boarding home is required for a fourteen year old Catholic school boy. Neither of his parents is able to provide a home for him at this time.

His interests are along artistic, musical and religious lines rather than in sports or outdoor activities. He has average intelligence but needs to concentrate on school work and would require encouragement in this area. He is blonde, has blue eyes, is of average height and build.

He needs a somewhat quiet, non-pressured situation and therefore a middle aged or older couple whose children are grown up and out of the home would be highly desirable. He is an obedient boy and would present no discipline problems at home, at school or in the community.

If you feel you could provide a home for this boy please write to:

BUMPY ROAD OF LOVE

Let's concede that romance is wonderful. It is obviously popular, is undoubtedly here to stay, and nobody in his right mind is going to knock it.

But lovers, PLEASE—not behind the wheel of a moving car in today's traffic. There just has to be a better—and safer—place to neck and nuzzle!

Yet there is increasing evidence that the driver's seat is replacing the davenport, the park bench and even the movie balcony as a favorite sparking spot.

No one has any figures so far to show how many accidents have been caused because a driver was smooching instead of steering and wooing instead of watching. But you don't have to be a safety expert to know that high horsepower love can be lethal.

Let's forget any bad taste involved and consider the problem from the standpoint of safety alone.

Surely no one can seriously believe that a young lover—or even an older one—can keep his mind on traffic when he has at least one arm around a cuddling cutie and is driving cheek to cheek.

If he can, he just ain't much of a lover! If he can't, he ought to get out of the driver's seat.

What to do about the problem? Legislation? Let's face it, you can't outlaw love. You would have to put a traffic officer in every car and keep him there as a chaperone. For unlike alcohol, romance doesn't show up on the breath in a balloon test or in a traffic spot-check.

Seatbelts? Do you think these lovebirds would use 'em—unless someone invents one that will buckle the lovers cozily together?

Public opinion and education? Probably the best hope. If only a fraction of these immature exhibitionists could be persuaded that they are inviting death and disaster for themselves and others, and looking cheap and silly as they do it, it would be a big step in the right direction.

Or we might pass a law that every driver and passenger must sit in an individual bucket seat. That might just do it!

THE EASIER WAY

As if things weren't already tough enough these days, many of us don't even know how to pronounce the names of most of the places and people we read about in the newspapers.

And even when we get a clue from a big-time radio or television commentator, along comes another commentator and gives an entirely different pronunciation.

Maybe that's why so many of us are talking more about the current government difficulties in England than about the crises in other lands. Almost everybody knows how to pronounce Christine and Mandy and Ward!

SUICIDE PROBE NEEDED

The success of organized, publicly supported effort as a means of curbing disease has been amply demonstrated in our time. The development of poliomyelitis vaccines is a prime example. The value of the concerted approach, and of recognition that disease is a challenge to be dealt with by the community, also is attested by advances in the prevention and treatment of cancer and heart ailments.

This makes it all the more curious that suicide, which is ninth on the list of death causes in the United States, has never been attacked in this way. There is no broad public approach to the problem of suicide to the task of learning more about why people take their own lives, and of finding how to prevent this. Efforts to those ends are being made, but they do not have anything like the general support given research on such lesser killers as muscular dystrophy and tuberculosis.

This may be because suicide is not essentially a medical problem, but one that lies within the province of psychology and sociology. These disciplines, along with the ministry, seem best fitted to deal with the tensions and pressures that may cause a

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

TIT FOR TAT AMONG REPUDIATORS

Before Nelson Rockefeller let go at the Radical Right with a double-barreled shotgun he had been making conciliatory gestures toward the conservative Republicans. Indeed, it was "me and Barry Goldwater" at some intimate chats over the breakfast table during Rocky's visits to Washington. This intimacy, however, is gone with the wind now that Rockefeller has insinuated that Goldwater has become a "prisoner" of the John Birch Society of radical rightists.

True, Rocky still professes that his feelings toward Goldwater are those of a fond father toward an erring son. "Barry," he says in effect, "could share a fatted calf with me if he would only give up his bad company."

So the stage is set for a Rockefeller-Goldwater peace conference. Let us try to think how it would go. The dialogue might be predicted as follows:

Nelson: "Barry, I'm sorry that I had to drape those Birchers around your neck. But they are going to vote for you, so I must consider them as Goldwaterites unless you choose specifically to repudiate their support."

Barry: "Well, Nels, I'm willing to meet you half way. As you know if you will only permit my words to speak for themselves, I am not for segregation. But if we are going to have a force bill passed by Congress that will permit the Department of Justice to institute federal suits to compel local community compliance in the matter of civil rights, I think it only just to insist that the individual rights of men in unions shall be similarly protected. I am aware that Governor Wallace of Alabama and Governor Barnett of Mississippi would not follow me in asking total federal protection of local civil rights, whether they pertain to Negroes or to disgruntled unionists. So I hereby repudiate the support of Alabama and Mississippi anti-Kennedys who might agree with Wallace and Barnett on this score. Now how about a quid pro quo, Nels?"

Nelson: "Such as what, Barry?"

Barry: "Specifically, would you repudiate the support of any unionist leadership that objects to federal insistence on intra-union democracy?"

Nelson: "That shouldn't be very hard."

Barry: "Okay, Nels, I'll wait for your next speech."

Nelson: "I'll promise you that speech if you promise me one against the lunatic writers who try to equate liberal Republicanism with the position taken by Americans for Democratic Action. After all, a lot of liberal Republicans differ with the ADA on many matters. The liberal Republican Senator from my State, Ken Keating, hardly lines up with Arthur Schlesinger Jr. on the sublines of letting Castro use Russian support in Cuba."

Barry: "I could promise you such a speech, but you would have to give me butter for fat in any brawl that might involve me with the writing fraternity. Would you follow up an attack by me on extremist writers on the conservative side with a denunciation of Group Research, a Leftist-oriented 'fact-gathering' outfit that, to put it kindly, seems dedicated to the proposition that Fascism is anything to the right of the exact middle of the road?"

Nelson: "But I haven't been using Group Research's material for my speeches."

Barry: "I didn't say you had. And, as a counter-proposition, I can assure you that Robert Welch, the head of the John Birch Society, is not my ghost writer."

Nelson: "We seem to be shadow-boxing. If you are a good broad-gauge Republican, will you go along with me in a denunciation of the New York State Conservative Party as a vicious splinter group that endangers the traditional American two-party system?"

Barry: "I might accommodate you on that, Nels. But would you join with me in denouncing the New York State Liberal Party as similarly vicious? Better yet, would you promise me to stop denouncing conservative Young Republican groups that want to work inside the party to which you profess to give democratic allegiance?"

Nelson: "But I'm a liberal, Barry. A Rockefeller liberal, not an ADA-er."

Barry: "And I'm a conservative, Nels. A Goldwater conservative, not a John Birch. I suggest that we shake on this note and part company until 1965."

The Mature Parent The Human Time Bombs

by MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Her home is a slem cellar; her bed a mattress she shares with a 77-year-old grandmother. She is 14. The afternoon her friend brought her to see me, she had been out of school for 10 days. I didn't ask her how she had been spending her time because I could feel the tension in her. Instead, I said, "It will be rough on you going back to school."

She said, "Can I have a cigarette?" As she lit it, she added without intonation, "I don't read good."

Two days later this human time bomb blew up. She broke into an apartment, stole and was arrested.

Said her friend, "She can't think no more. She shakes all the time. Her place stinks. They don't put out the garbage. She'll be sent up, won't she?"

"Slum schools are stopping-off places for bewildered, confused children from poverty-stricken, broken and crowded homes," writes Cleveland teacher Ralph E. Loewe in a recent issue of the Saturday Review. He describes his experience with students whose emotional illnesses have devoured the energies required for concentration and learning.

I do not quote him to support my experience with the truant child who could not think any more. I quote him because he proposed a solution to the national problem of homes where turbulence and apathy are destroying children's power to think. His proposal is "free, pre-elementary schools for children in underprivileged areas to help them achieve the readiness for education provided in normal middle-class homes."

If you who are reading this live in a "normal middle-class home," the chances are good that you don't know what Loewe is talking about. I believe that to the average middle-class American who reads my description of the truant child, she is as unreal as Cinderella. And so I have to accept the probability that this reader lacks any experience that would enable him to appreciate the intelligence of the Loewe proposal.

To appreciate it you have to see the trembling fingers of the sick, truant, chain-smoking child. You have to see her slum cellar, the filthy mattress behind the stove. You have to smell the accumulated garbage and control your shudder at the walls crawling with roaches.

Only then can you hear the time bomb ticking away the minutes for this nation.

human being to take that lonely step into darkness.

In the United States, one death every 26 minutes is recorded as a suicide. Although the rate is not as high as in several other countries, it is high enough to warrant far more public concern than has yet been shown. Sociologists, psychiatrists, ministers and others who have something to bring to this effort should be encouraged to make a joint attack on the problem. The undertaking merits widespread support.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The National Draft Goldwater for President headquarters in Washington will announce the names of its first state chairmen and state organizing committee members within the next few weeks.

All will be regular Republicans with experience and recognized standing in the GOP.

The political importance of this strategy can hardly be overestimated. It will refute the contention of New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and others that the Goldwater drive is the work of right-wing extremists on the lunatic fringe.

There is no disputing that most of the enthusiasm for Goldwater now comes from grass roots supporters and political amateurs. There have been local Goldwater for President clubs in many communities for two years and more, but they have been unrelated, unofficial and outside the Republican party.

The second big job of the National Draft Goldwater Committee—to be done concurrently with setting up state, county and city organizations—will be to co-ordinate these independent local clubs with the regular party.

MANY OF THESE LOCAL CLUBS have been circulating their own petitions urging nomination of Goldwater as the candidate in 1964. Draft Goldwater headquarters also has petitions out, and it asks all signers for a dollar as their contribution to the cause.

There are around 100,000 signatures on these petitions now. The idea is to bring them all together. There is a blank state chart in Draft Goldwater headquarters now, waiting for insertion of the first state totals.

The hope is to run the total number of signatures into the millions. Peter O'Donnell Jr., national chairman of the Draft Goldwater Committee, and F. Clifton White, executive director, head of the job of building this organization.

O'Donnell, well-to-do young

Dallas businessman and Republican state chairman in Texas since 1956, knows all the GOP regulars. He is on the move, acting on national and state committees to line up responsible leaders.

White is a New York political science teacher and public relations man who has dabbled in politics since 1948 as a Dewey, Eisenhower and Nixon backer. He played a leading role in blocking Rockefeller's presidential ambitions in 1960. He wouldn't be averse to doing it again in 1964.

SOME GOP STATE COMMITTEES have a rule that their chairmen must be a neutral, not backing any one candidate for political office before the primary or state convention.

In other states this is a ruling of the state executive committee, a custom that has been followed for years, or a personal preference of the state chairman himself.

In all such states, O'Donnell, White and their co-workers are forced to look elsewhere for Goldwater state and local chairmen and committeemen. But they are recruiting from the ranks of responsible Republican citizens who have the Goldwater conviction of conservatism—not the crackpot extremists.

THERE IS NO ASSURANCE that Goldwater will allow his name to be entered as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in the New Hampshire primary next spring.

If he doesn't allow it, a group of his supporters may try to present his name anyway.

The importance of all this effort is that the Goldwater backers have obtained a big jump on supporters of Rockefeller and the other GOP possibilities.

Rockefeller, speaking before a few hundred rich Californians at Bohemian Grove, will make no appeal whatever to the rank and file Republicans he needs to win. The Republican Citizens Committee, meeting at Hershey, Pa., even under President Eisenhower's sponsorship, is just as far removed from the great mass of voters.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time I am asked how much a book or an autograph or print is worth. In the New York Times, of Sunday, July 14, 1963, on page 21 there was an illustrated advertisement from the Altman Book Shop, of Fifth Avenue, New York City. It covers "original autograph letters and documents and old and rare books." One item they describe should be of interest to folks of Ulster County. It is of "George Clinton, Governor of New York 1777-95 and governor-to-be DeWitt Clinton. Handwritten Resolution, signed by each, Feb. 6, 1778, that the four bills outlined thereupon 'should respectively become Laws of this State.' They say it is 'impressively framed with portraits of both Clintons.' The selling price is $100. I notice most of the autographs are with photographs and framed.

Another item described is that of "U. S. Grant, Document signed as President, May 28, 1869, suspending the Deputy Postmaster of Newburgh, Orange County, New York. Framed with handsome portrait." On sale for $65. They also have one of "Helen Keller. Inspiring signed typed statement about the importance of women voting, framed with portrait and addressed envelope, stamped July 4, 1910." For this they are asking $50. I remember when Helen Keller was in Kingston, and spoke at our Kingston High School, many years ago. Another one they mention is: "Historically important, George Washington. Wartime order signed, Morristown, Jan. 7, 1777, to William Patience, Paymaster General to the Army of the U. S. to pay to Col. David Henley, sixty-five hundred dollars to recruit a regiment. Framed with portrait." Asking price was $500. This may give the readers an idea what is saleable and what the asking prices are.

Most every household has a glass item which they treasure, sometimes they are a family heirloom or perhaps an item which came from some glass maker around here. There was the Honesdale Glass factory, built in 1872, at the other end from Rondout on the D and H Canal. There was also the Glass Works of Kingston, at South Wall Street. The owner or superintendent was Marvin S. Deyo, who lived in the old Eagle Hotel around 1899 according to the Kingston City Directory. During the war of 1812 there was the Woodstock Glass Manufactory and Ulster Glass Factory which were in Woodstock. In the 1860's there was the Ellenville Glass Company. Perhaps there were more around here.

Those who are interested in Sandwich Glass, which came from Sandwich, the Cape Cod town where a glass factory was built in 1825, see the Woman's Day magazine of August 1963 which has some twelve pages of colorful illustrations and descriptions and history of Sandwich glass, blown three mold, early pressed and lacy, cup plates, salts, candlesticks and lamps, vases, pattern glass, paperweights. They also show in colors fine examples of cut, engraved and etched glass items, fancy ware and miscellany, and miniature. These were usually little glass top dishes made at Sandwich during 1825-1850. The text is by Edith Gaines, and photographs by Bill Beecher. Sandwich, Mass., is in Barnstable County which is the county in which Hyannis Port is located. There is a museum of glass items called Sandwich Glass Museum. There is also a Corning Museum of Glass, at Corning. We also have a fine glass collection at our Senate House Museum, uptown Kingston.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug. 2, 1963. I trust that the millions of readers of this syndicated weekly column of mine will forgive me for making today's discussion so personal. I have never done it before in quite this same way. The fact is, however, that I have just returned from the grave where I have buried my dear wife. This column, of course, must be written; and I cannot think of anything else.

Thousands of Husbands—Are You One?

Here is a very important thought that occurred to me yesterday; namely, that some thousands husbands in this country are today suffering the same bereavement. They are burying their dearest friend. We are often too self-centered to recognize this fact. We think too much about ourselves alone, and forget these nine hundred and ninety-nine, or even nine thousand and ninety-nine, others who are suffering the same tragedy. I can truthfully say the following about Nona Dougherty Babson (and I believe millions of others can say the same of their wives): I had a faithful wife who gave me a good home. She was an able executive and yet loved everyone. She was a praying partner, and we said our prayers together every night before going to bed. She was the personification of loyalty, thoughtfulness, and kindness.

Knowledge and Tolerance

As I look over my morning newspaper, I feel that we are not only guilty of the self-centeredness mentioned above, but that we have missed or are lacking in some fundamental training by our parents or teachers and friends. First, we have failed to seek out and appreciate the facts of life. We read the headlines of our newspapers, but neglect the fine print. How many of us actually seek knowledge rather than mere news?

The second lack in our education has been our failure to develop tolerance. We neglect tolerance—in our family life—with our neighbors, in our religion and politics. This intolerance—between members of the same families, between employers and wage-workers, between rich and poor, between different races, colors, and nations—is the real reason for revolutions and wars, both "cold" and "hot." So, on this sad morning, I shall resolve to be more tolerant with those who are still living. Again I ask my readers to forgive me for making this week's column so personal; but I cannot help it. "The show must go on," as the song on a record so poignantly points out. But I am still human—and I hope I shall continue to be so throughout my life. My late wife was very human. One of the thoughts she kept constantly before me was our dependence on our fellowman and our need for faith in God and in the power of goodness.

Editor, The Freeman:

Critical of Lawrence

David Lawrence's profusion of pronouncements on racial problems in his daily column grows curiously and curiously. One wonders whether he writes out of confusion or purpose. Which ever it may be, his suave prose seems to me to boil down to the mighty little help to the cause of integration.

In a recent column, for instance, Mr. Lawrence discussed the question of the role the clergy should play in the present racial controversy. "Is it to get one's self arrested by the police for disturbing the peace in order to dramatize the grievances of a group in the community? Or is it to inculcate a spirit of human brotherhood among parishioners and to help them seek divine guidance in the relations of man to man?" Mr. Lawrence asked.

"A group in the community?" Oh come now, Mr. Lawrence. Let us not try to reduce our colored citizenry to the status of a group in the community. I would remind you that these people constitute a large and important proportion of the population of our United States. Nor should their overwhelming problems be belittled to the degree of mere grievances.

Mr. Lawrence stated further that Martin Luther King has been arrested thirteen times, and then he continued, "Few ministers believe that this kind of exhibitionism is necessary to persuade fair-minded American citizens that equal opportunities shall be given to those who are qualified"

It is surely agreed that ministers are not needed to persuade fair-minded Americans of this basic fact, but a rapidly-increasing number of the clergy are willingly going to jail these days, along with Mr. King, for trying to persuade Americans who are not fair-minded. In their determination to submit to the indignities of demonstration and arrest, what more profound method could these clergymen choose to inculcate a spirit of human brotherhood among those who are in need of it? In the truest sense, these members of the church are preaching not "Do as I say," but "Do as I do."

Atmosphere Tests Not Necessary to Missile Defense

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — More nuclear explosions in the atmosphere would not help significantly in the effort to build an antimissile missile, a U.S. nuclear physicist said today.

"The problem is not one of developing nuclear warheads," said Dr. Ralph Lapp. "The problem is still one of ballistics and electronics. And all these problems can be pursued without atmospheric tests."

Nevertheless Lapp, who worked on the development of the first atom bomb but is no longer associated with the government's nuclear or missile projects, said these ballistics and electronic problems would be difficult to solve.

President Kennedy went even further at his news conference Thursday, saying:

"The problem of developing a defense against a missile is beyond us, and beyond the Soviets, technically. And I think many who work in it feel that perhaps it can never be successfully accomplished."

The President's remarks rang alarm bells in some Pentagon circles, particularly the Army which has been pushing its Nike Zeus antimissile project for eight years. Views among Pentagon officials range from the Army's unflinching optimism to severe skepticism of some Defense Department scientists and officials who also believe the technical problems may be insurmountable.

The debate over development of an antimissile system has quickened again with the prospects of a U.S., British and Russian treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere as well as in outer space and under water.

Some critics of the agreement, military and congressional, have expressed fears the Soviet Union may be ahead of the United States in development of a defense against intercontinental ballistic missiles.

system to ask him to refuse personal advancement. But I can't help but feel somewhat concerned when a person quits with school, and a new one at that, less than a month away. After their meeting of last night, the best that the school board could come up with was that they accepted his resignation and would omit the usual 'with regrets.' Terrific! A real exhibition of powerful management at work.

Taken Again

"So, my friends, we 'rubies' have been taken once again. I stated during the recent school board campaign that the management or board of directors of our second largest industry (six million dollars, if you please) left a bit to be desired, and true to form they have once again demonstrated confirmation of my belief.

"Although I am writing this letter as a private citizen, I know that I speak unofficially for the Committee for Proper Education through Proper Expenditures when I say that we will anxiously await the next exciting chapter in the saga of the School Board vs. the Taxpayers.

"Please, gentlemen, be reasonable with our dollars. However, of greater importance, don't be either panicked or rushed into another selection which will result in either mediocrity or a moral contract violator—or both.

"Also, you might wish to consider asking the school attorney to attempt to develop a contract, acceptable to the state, of course, which would afford our system a little more protection than the one-way contracts which you are presently negotiating.

"We will wait and observe, and incidentally, wish you the best of everything towards the ultimate settlement of this problem."

Rusk, Home Leave

Khrushchev is expected to preside. Rusk and Home are expected to meet with Khrushchev for talks on future steps in relaxing cold-war tensions after the signing.

Rusk, as the first American secretary of state to visit Moscow since the late George C. Marshall was here in 1947, has been invited to stay on for a few days as Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's guest.

Khrushchev was reported to be planning to invite Rusk and his wife to visit the premier's Black Sea vacation home. But the U.S. Embassy said it knew nothing of such a plan and that it tentatively had scheduled a sightseeing trip to Leningrad for Wednesday.

The talks are expected to concentrate on the nonaggression pact Khrushchev wants NATO and the Warsaw pact alliances to sign.

French President Charles de Gaulle's refusal to sign such a treaty appeared to doom this project. But President Kennedy and W. Averell Harriman, under-secretary of state for political affairs, who negotiated the test ban, have indicated that a way could be found around the Paris road-block.

Some Western observers here expect Rusk to sound out Khrushchev on the possibility of settling for a formal declaration of non-aggression made independently by both military alliances.

He was taken to Kingston Hospital and released after treatment. Police said robbery apparently was not a motive in either of the assaults. They said it appeared that the youths allegedly responsible might have beat up the men for "kicks."

Lewis received an injury to his left hand.

2 Boys Accused Of Auto Thefts

Two Saugerties boys were apprehended near Fishkill Friday after Town of Poughkeepsie police chased them along Route 9 in a stolen car.

Troopers said the 15-year-old boys were passengers on a bus which stopped at the Ulster Service Center on the Thruway. The boys, troopers said, took a parked car and drove to Saugerties, where the vehicle was abandoned.

Later the boys, troopers reported, stole a 1960 convertible and drove to the Town of Poughkeepsie, where they were spotted by police, who pursued the vehicle to Fishkill where it was wrecked in a mishap.

Troopers said the boys had been at an Otisville institution for taking a car and driving it to Lake George. They were returned to the institution.

Ground, Air Units Battle Grass Fire

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Soldiers manned bulldozers and helicopters Friday night in an effort to contain a range fire which whipped across thousands of acres of grassland in the Wichita mountains wildlife refuge.

One soldier was hospitalized with a shoulder injury, and two others suffered minor injuries. Several ranchers reported livestock missing, and refuge officials said some deer and buffalo died in the fire.

By early this morning, the fire had blackened nearly 6,000 acres, and was confined to the slopes of Mount Sheridan.

Two resort areas have been damaged, and the Holy City, site of a Easter sunrise pageant, was threatened for a time.

About 1,850 troops from nearby Ft. Sill were sent to fight the blaze with bulldozers. Helicopters kept watch over the area as small animals with burning fur spread the flames.

The fire broke out Thursday afternoon, and later that day it was thought to be under control. But early Friday morning it flared up again and went out of control.

Guilty on 5 Counts
The federal grand jury's five-count information against Landis was announced to the press only after Landis had been arraigned before U.S. Dist. Court Judge Edward C. McLean. McLean released Landis in his own custody on guilty pleas to each count.

In a statement read to the court, Landis' attorney, William Warren, dean of the Columbia University Law School, said his client had become so engrossed in public affairs he never got around to filing tax returns for the five years until after the IRS prompted him.

Landis has headed the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Civil Aeronautics Board, and the wartime Office of Civilian Defense. He also was a member of the Federal Trade Commission.

His last government post was as adviser to President Kennedy on government regulatory agencies. Landis resigned Sept. 7, 1961, the day he was named correspondent in a Washington divorce suit, later dropped. Adultery allegations against Landis were never substantiated.

Dutchess Dems Seek Candidate For Sheriff Post

Dutchess County Democratic leaders today were without a candidate for the office of sheriff. The deadline for designating a candidate for the office is August 12.

J. I. Marvin Ong, who had been designated as the party candidate to oppose incumbent Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan (R) in the November election, on Friday said he will be unable to accept the Democratic nomination because his employer, the William J. Burns Detective Agency, has a policy employees cannot be candidates for public office.

Ong, who is the agency's area supervisor, explained that when he first was approached and asked to be a candidate for sheriff he consulted his immediate superior in the detective agency and was informed there would be no objection by the company and he declared his availability based upon that assurance.

Later, Ong noted, he learned that it would be against the company's regulations if he was a candidate for public office. He made his official announcement Friday that he was not a candidate for sheriff.

The Democratic County Committee on vacancies is expected to meet this weekend to select a candidate for sheriff.

Suspend License Of County Pilot

Ben Selbst of Long Beach, California, who was charged with reckless flying by the proprietor of a summer camp at Esopus Lake, Ulster Park, on July 13, had his flying license suspended for six months. He will also have to take a flying re-test and submit to a physical examination before his license will be restored. The suspension was imposed Friday after a hearing before the Federal Aviation authority.

The suspension came after the complaint, lodged by David Malachovsky, proprietor of a summer camp off River Road, of low flying and endangering campers, had been withdrawn. It was alleged at the time that Selbst had swooped down over the camp area, leveling off at an altitude of some 20 feet.

Selbst was arrested by Trooper BCI Investigator James Kaljian on complaint of the camp management.

Selbst formerly owned and operated a flying field opposite the Hi-Lo shopping center.

President Relaxes At Cape Cod

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy settled today into a summertime swing of golf and water sports at picturesque Cape Cod.

He didn't wait long to get started on a few holes of golf after flying up from Washington Friday, even though a heavy rainstorm had just swept the area.

Aides said Kennedy hopes to get in more golf and a cruise on Nantucket Sound today, plus whatever odds and ends of official business need attention from the man who never completely escapes from his job.

Mrs. Kennedy is vacationing here until it is time for her to return to the capital for the birth of her third child, expected later this month.

ect still are picking crops. Nine men found other jobs, McGuire reported.

Of the 51 remaining on the rolls, the commissioner said, 38 have been reassigned to lighter work because of physical limitations and 13 have been excused from work for health reasons.

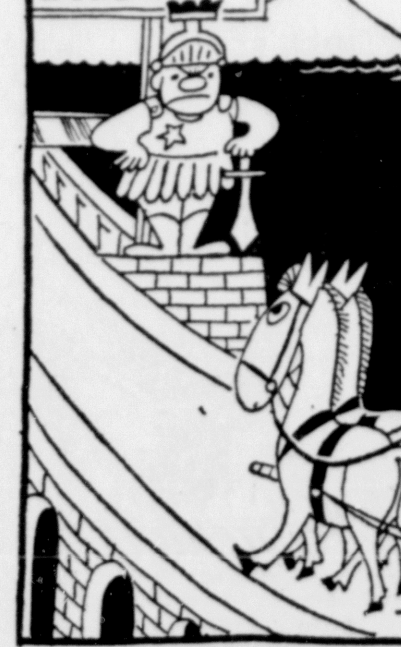

McGuire estimated the cut back would save the county $7,500 a month.

When McGuire announced the program in June, he expressed the hope that it would help solve the problem of bringing migrant workers into the county each harvest season.

Marlo Thomas Is Picked From Play For Guest Spot

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marlo Thomas is finding out that a good role in a showcase play can do more for you than a famous father.

The actress, 23, is starring in "Sunday in New York" at the Civic Playhouse. The other day she was signed for an episode on television's "Wagon Train" after a casting director had spotted her in the play.

"Everything is opening up for me in show business since I went into the play four months ago," says the pretty daughter of Danny Thomas. "Before that, things were tough."

Marlo started out to be an English teacher. For her thesis at the University of Southern California, she did a paper on "Acting, as an approach to teaching."

Her logic was so convincing that she gave up the idea of teaching—and has been in show business ever since.

"Of course, I have never been out of the business—not in our house," Marlo says. "For years, I was the only teen-ager who regularly received lectures from her father on a coast-to-coast television show."

When she was 15, she was a tomboy and consistently beat her boy friends at tennis and golf.

A few weeks later, she tuned in her father's show and heard him lecturing his teen-age daughter (then played by Sherry Jackson): "Worst mistake a teen-age girl can make is to beat her boy friend at sports. She can turn him into a compulsive chocolate milk drinker."

Marlo got the message — and went on a dress-buying spree.

She next wound up in Danny's night club act as "Charge Account Sue," in one of his funniest routines.

Uniformed Police Will Continue to Check in Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Uniformed police will continue to scrutinize bars in Syracuse despite a charge that patrolmen were being overzealous in the duty, Police Chief Patrick V. Murphy says.

Murphy said Friday he believed it was important that uniformed policemen as well as plainclothesmen check bars.

The complaint was made by Roger A. Pierce, executive secretary of the Onondaga County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, in a letter to Murphy and Mayor William F. Walsh.

Police were overdoing it, Pierce told a reporter Friday, "especially when they inspected a good place four times in one night."

I could have told Chief Murphy what places to check. I am not convinced we have the worst places in the world here."

Referring to the inspections, Murphy said, "I only recently made a gambling arrest at an on bar. Two recent murder cases started out in bars, and, just the other day, we made a dual burglary arrest and, in their statements, the pair said they met in a bar."

TELEGRAPHED FLOWERS ARRIVE WITHERED

Q: Several times a year — birthday, anniversary and at the holiday season — a dear friend of mine who is now living in another city, wires flowers to me from her local florist. These flowers are by no means fresh when they arrive, barely lasting throughout the day. I have never mentioned this to her in my note of thanks as I did not want to hurt her feelings. My husband thinks I am wrong not to tell her about it as he is sure she is unaware of this and is probably being charged for fresh flowers.

A: I certainly think you should do something about it since it happens several times a year. My suggestion would be to write or telephone the florist and say that on several occasions flowers sent by Mrs. Smith from his shop arrived in a withered condition and that if it happens again you will tell your friend about it so that in the future she can place her order with another florist.

Small-Sized Coffee Spoons

Q: May the small coffee spoons be used with regular size coffee cups, or are these used only when serving demitasse? I have been given a dozen of these spoons but I never serve demitasse. I wonder if they might be used in this way?

A: No, these spoons are too small to use with regular size coffee cups.

Bridesmaid for Third Time

Q: I have just been asked to be a bridesmaid for the third time and my mother says I should decline as it is bad luck to serve three times. Is this true?

A: Your mother is evidently thinking of the superstitious saying, "Three times a bridesmaid, never a bride," which is too silly to be taken seriously and you may certainly take part if you wish to do so.

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of this newspaper.

Home Extension Service News

Records that newlyweds should keep are outlined in the following article by Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent:

You may have been married a long time but check the list. Do you keep them?

The freshly signed marriage certificate will be among the newlyweds' most precious possessions which they'll tuck away in a safe place.

But other records merit their attention and care, too, according to University of Illinois Home Management Specialist, Virginia Guthrie. She lists 20 of the most important records that young couples should keep either temporarily or indefinitely as follows:

In addition to the marriage certificate, the following eight other records fall into the "save indefinitely" category.

They are: military service records, birth certificates, social security records, real estate deeds and papers, personal property inventory, investment records, and up-to-date employment records, and wills—although they may not make wills immediately.

Following here are 11 key records which should be kept temporarily: High on the list are cancelled checks, most of which should be kept about two years. However, all checks for which income tax deductions will be filed, should be kept for as long as income tax returns (five years). Other cancelled checks to keep are those for insurance; rent as long as the couple lives in a certain place; payment of debt; payment of securities; investment or real estate; and any that might be needed to confirm a date of purchase or price paid for such things as home equipment or furnishings.

Other temporary records to keep are: Both income tax records and check stubs that relate to income tax—about five years in case the Bureau of Internal Revenue has questions. Duplicate deposit slips—until deposit appears on bank statement. Receipt and receipted bills—about six months. Sales slips—until product has proved satisfactory or has outlived its guarantee. Insurance policies—only those currently in force. Income records—especially valuable for couples who have irregular incomes. Automobile title and maintenance records—as long as car is owned.

Miss Guthrie points out that a systematic method for keeping records will save much frustration for any married couple.

2 Dental Clinics Set By Board at Allaben

Dr. Theodore S. Drachman, Commissioner of Health of Ulster County, announces a series of dental clinics for pre-school children, ages four and five, which will be conducted at the Health Center, Allaben on Monday and Tuesday, August 12 and 13.

Children participating in these clinics will have their teeth inspected, cleaned and will have an opportunity to participate in the program of decay prevention.

The children will be able to see dental equipment and have a chance to learn and understand the importance of dental health. In this way they will become interested and look forward to future visits to the dentist.

Appointments for those interested may be made by calling Mrs. Barbara Garette, Pine Hill; Mrs. Peggy Rosa, Shandaken, or Mrs. Nellie Winchell, Phoenixia.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: TURNCOAT: Lowell D. Skinner, an American prisoner of war who remained in Communist China after the Korean War, will have some back pay coming when he returns to the United States even though he was given a dishonorable discharge in 1954.

The army gave this word Friday as Skinner, 32, of Akron, Ohio, arrived in Hong Kong on his way home. He said he decided to return to the United States because of a lack of freedom in China.

At the State Department, press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Skinner is free to return and that his citizenship was not affected by his dishonorable discharge. The Justice Department said the question of whether Skinner is liable for prosecution would be examined.

STUDENTS: The House Committee on Un-American Activities will hold a public hearing Monday on unauthorized visits of American citizens to Cuba.

The committee said Friday the hearing will help determine if new legislation is needed.

Asked at his news conference Thursday about the American students now in Cuba, president Kennedy said they would lose their passports when they return. The students, he said, "should have some concern for the security and foreign policy objectives of the United States."

MARCH TIME: Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., says, "The sensible way to avoid marches upon Washington is for Washington itself to get on the march" and pass civil rights legislation. The assistant Senate Democratic leader referred in his Senate speech Friday to the march on Washington planned for Aug. 28 by civil rights groups.

He remembered East's double of four diamonds and decided that East wouldn't have made the bid without at least five diamonds. If East held the guarded king of trumps there would be no real play for the contract but if East held a singleton trump and the same five diamonds South could play the ace of spades and pick up the king if that were East's one trump or work an elimination play against West if he held the king.

Therefore, South won the diamond in his own hand, led a spade to dummy's ace, cashed his ace of hearts, led a heart to dummy's king, ruffed a heart, took his king and ace of clubs, led a diamond to dummy's ace, ruffed the last heart in his own hand, threw West in with the king of trumps and sat back triumphantly—only to see West produce another diamond for the setting trick.

Complete Living Quarters Are On One Floor

Rooms Five
Bedrooms Two
Bathrooms Six
Cubage: House 19,800 ft.
Garage 3,300 ft.
Dimensions 56'x28'

Offering complete living quarters on one floor, "The Amherst" boasts two good sized bedrooms, a spacious living room, a thoroughly modern bath, kitchen and laundry plus generous well-placed storage space. Dimensions of the house proper, excluding the laundry or utility room and the attached garage, are 26'x33'.

There is no entry hall in "The Amherst" for the front door opens directly into the living room. Thus, there is no waste space taken up by an entry hall. In the further wall of the living room, almost directly opposite the front doorway, is another door opening on a hallway connecting with the rooms in the house. Just to the right, opening off this hallway, is a large coat closet which can serve as the storage place for guests' wraps, etc.

The living room itself is a very attractive room that is easy to decorate and in which furniture arrangement should present no problem whatsoever. A picture window flanked by casement windows in the front wall, and three windows in the right wall, admit an abundance of light and ventilation; these vie for top decorative honors with the fireplace centered in the back wall of the room.

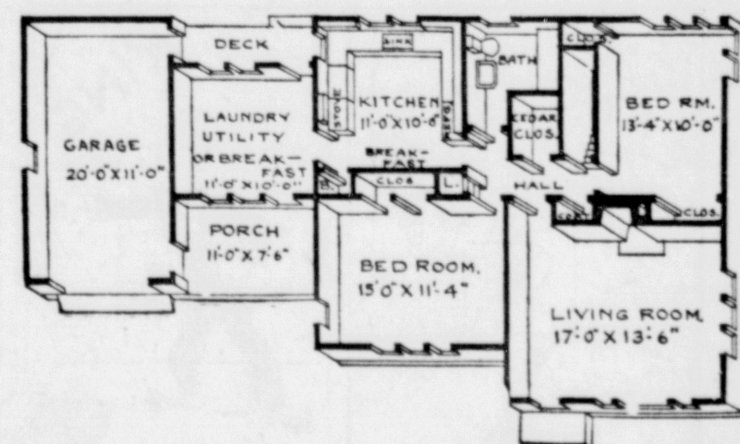

Measuring 17'x13'6", the living room is designated to serve as a combination dining-room as there is no room specified to be used as the dining room in this house plan. Place your dining room set where you'll reap the greatest possible practical and decorative benefits from the windows and fireplace. Yet, don't put the set where serving formal dinners will be too much of a problem.

Three windows in the back wall and two in the right wall, forming altogether a corner of windows, provide unusually good light and ventilation for the right hand bedroom. This room is 13'4"x10' in measurements and has two spacious storage closets. Two youngsters could easily share this room.

Stairs to the cellar open off the central hallway just before the door leading to this back bedroom. The large cedar closet, also opening on this hallway, beside the stairs, will come in very handy as a convenient and protected storage space for your blankets, woolen clothing, etc., during the summer months.

The all-modern bath contains both a tub and a shower and receives sufficient light and ventilation through the one window in its back wall.

Bedroom Closet
Across the hallway from the door to the bathroom is the 15'x11'4" front bedroom. Three windows in the front wall and one in the left provide good lighting and ventilation for this bedroom. Planned to be used as the master bedroom, this room also contains a spacious clothes closet—one that can easily accommodate the storage needs of two people.

There is a good sized linen closet conveniently located just to the left of the door to this bedroom. This linen closet is finish it, this porch can be turned into a very pleasant spot indeed.

The sun deck, at the back of the house, will be a pleasant spot to sit and sun in the warm weather. Direct access to the attached garage is provided from both the front porch and the sun deck.

One window in the left wall of the 20'x11' garage provides ample light and ventilation. There's plenty of overhead storage space in the garage.

Since there is a laundry on the first floor of "The Amherst," the only "must" installation in the basement is the heating plant; this should be placed under the living room. Thus, you'll have an abundance of basement space to use as you see fit.

not have a breakfast nook in the kitchen.

There are two windows in both the front and back walls of the laundry; doors in both these walls permit easy access to the front and back yards. The front porch, which is 11'x7'6", is reached through the door in the front wall of the laundry; it can be screened or glassed in or left open with just a roof overhead.

Whatever the way you decide to finish it, this porch can be turned into a very pleasant spot indeed.

The sun deck, at the back of the house, will be a pleasant spot to sit and sun in the warm weather. Direct access to the attached garage is provided from both the front porch and the sun deck.

Home Depreciation

Unlike the family auto, homes throughout the country do not have an even rate of depreciation. Careful homeowners often improve and protect their homes over the years, thereby slowing the depreciation rate. Another factor affecting depreciation is that a home built of quality materials such as ceramic tile in the kitchen and bathrooms depreciates more slowly than homes in which substitute materials were used.

Pink, Blue Are Popular

Shades of pink and blue continue to be among the most popular colors of ceramic tile in bathrooms, the nation's leading tile contractors report. However, the trend to using tile in other areas of the home is changing the standard color pattern. Since ceramic tile now is available in more than 250 colors and an infinite number of patterns, homeowners are taking advantage of color possibilities far beyond the "standard" pinks and grays.

All-Stars Surprise Packers, Defeat Pro Champions, 20-17

Only 9th Win In 30 Games For Collegians

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars, in an amazing 20-17 upset victory, have proved the mighty Green Bay Packers can be had.

Their demonstration before 65,000 fans in Soldier Field and a national television audience Friday night should throw the 1963 National Football League race into a more unpredictable tizzy than ever.

The Green Bay dynasty, built on two successive NFL championships, may be showing a crack. At least the All-Stars, beating the pros for the first time since 1958 and only the ninth time in the 30-year history of the series, have made the Packers seem human after all.

Unwanted Hero

And guiding the college senior football greats of last season—who now scatter to NFL and American League clubs as pro rookies—was quarterback Ron VanderKelen—of Wisconsin, a player none of them wanted.

Vandy wasn't even drafted. But after his sensational showing in the Rose Bowl game—although the Badgers lost to USC despite his record-making passing—he suddenly became popular. Winning the bid for his services were the Minnesota Vikings.

After the Packers had grabbed a 7-0 lead in the opening five minutes by recovering a Larry Ferguson fumble on the All-Stars 11 and sending Jim Taylor across from the 6, Vandy steered his team 57 yards. The drive—behind the running of Ferguson (Iowa-Detroit Lions), and the pass catching of Paul Flatley (Northwestern-Vikings) and Bob Jencks (Miami Ohio-Chicago Bears)—ended with Jencks booting a 20-yard field goal.

Before the first quarter closed Tommy Janik (Texas A&I-Denver Broncos) had stolen a Bart Starr pass and returned it to the Packers 27 yards. Vandy hit his Wisconsin teammate, Pat Richter (Washington Redskins) for 21 yards. Then, in the first four seconds of the second period, Ferguson barreled over from the 5, and Jencks added the first of his two extra points to put the All-Stars ahead 10-7.

Tied at Half
Green Bay's Tom Moore and Taylor hit a 59-yard pass capped by Jerry Kramer's 21-yard field goal that locked the score 10-10. It stood that way at the half after Jencks' field-goal attempt from the Packers 19 failed when deflected by Herb Adderly.

After a scoreless third quarter, as Glynn Griffing (Mississippi-New York Giants) spelled VanderKelen and got off some nifty passes, the All-Stars again took the lead, 13-10, on a 33-yard field goal by Jencks.

Later, when Jerry Kramer's 37-yard field goal was wide for Green Bay, the most sensational play of the game developed. Vandy passed 20 yards to Richter near the sidelines, and the 8-foot-5 All-America end romped 53 more to score. The 73-yard play put the All-Stars on top 20-10.

With six seconds left, the Packers climaxed a 63-yard aerial drive with Taylor bounding over from the 1.

Coach Graham Gives Praise To Offensive Line of Stars

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — "Wowee," shouted hard-running fullback Ben Wilson, the first College All-Star player to get to the dressing room after a 20-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers Friday night, and that set off the general reaction among the youngsters who had their first taste of professional football.

"Great, wonderful, how about that, unbelievable." Those were the remarks shouted in the hot, steamy shower room.

Pat Richter, the All-America who took a pass from Wisconsin teammate Ron VanderKelen for a 73-yard touchdown play in the final quarter, admitted the All-Stars were only trying for a first down.

"Never mind," hollered head Coach Otto Graham, "we'll take it. Sure, we were going for the first down but anytime you try a play in football you're also trying to go all the way."

Not Enough Said
Graham moved through the dressing room slapping the players on the back and congratulating them.

"You know," said Graham, "a couple of days ago line coach Dick Stanfel said Ed Budde (Michigan State) was our best offensive lineman. During the game he told me they were all great and I have to agree with him."

"It's the best offensive line we have had since I've been coaching here," said Graham whose teams had suffered four straight losses at the hands of the professionals since an inaugural 35-19 victory over Detroit in 1958.

Graham refused to compare this squad with the 1958 team saying, "That's too tough to do but I can't say enough about these guys."

Asked why he switched to Glynn Griffing of Mississippi in the second half after VanderKelen had guided the team effectively in the first half, Graham said he wanted to give somebody else a chance.

"The fact that we had a couple of fumbles also went through my mind. It was all a tossup who would start at quarterback. All four guys are good. Terry Baker (Oregon State) and Sonny Gibbs (Texas Christian) can both throw."

"VanderKelen won the job the last few days. He and Griffing did so well I just didn't have a chance to use the others. I went back to VanderKelen because I felt he could do the job at that specific time."

Vince Lombardi, coach of the Packers, said: "We have no excuses. That was a fine All-Star squad and VanderKelen is a great pro prospect. He handles himself exceptionally well."

Lombardi said the Packers missed the services of injured linebacker Ray Nitschke and that fullback Jim Taylor was not up to par.

"I tried to get Taylor out of there a couple of times but he managed to get back in there. Our morale was high but we simply couldn't get going."

Annual Event Slated at New Paltz College

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Featuring record breaking entries in all divisions, the annual Hudson Valley Open Tennis tournament is scheduled to get underway Monday at the New Paltz State Teachers College courts.

There are 44 contestants in the men's singles, 14 in the men's senior singles (those over 45 years of age), 14 in the women's singles and 28 in the men's doubles. Doug Shepard, tournament director, said the top players of the area and several from other areas will compete in the tournament, which will conclude on Sunday, Aug. 11.

Matches will take place each night from 5 until 10 p. m. Semi-finals are slated Saturday at 1 o'clock and the finals next Sunday at 2 p. m.

Seed Bonner First

As usual, the men's singles will be featured. Dave Bonner of Poughkeepsie, a member of the varsity tennis team at the University of Florida, has been given top seeding. Bonner has already captured the Poughkeepsie Tennis Club and the Powlton Club of Newburgh titles.

Art Jones, another Bridge City ranking star, is seeded second. Others who have been seeded in the singles are Gordon Krajna, former New Paltz ace; Eugene Kolankowsky, Pleasant Valley; Dick Little, Kingston; Perry Link, New Paltz; Pete Roberts, Kingston; Don Bunk, Hyde Park and Dick Smith, Kingston.

Little will see action on Monday at 6 o'clock when he meets Burt Gold of Poughkeepsie. In another top match on the opening night, Dr. Mortimer Helman of New York City will meet Dr. Howard Josias of Poughkeepsie. Dr. Helman is a veteran net star and has won several tournaments in the metropolitan area.

Severo Galinato of West Point, a ranking net player for many seasons, will meet Dr. Sam Stanley of Middletown in a first round match of the men's senior singles at 6 o'clock Monday.

Tennis buffs are invited to attend all the action. The courts at the Ulster County college are in excellent condition and many outstanding players are expected to put on some good matches.

Radatz Is Hit Hard 2nd Time

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick (The Monster) Radatz still is hissing, but suddenly it's beginning to sound like he's sprung a leak.

Punctured for the second straight time, the awesome Boston reliever met his match again in a David and Goliath setting as the Washington Senators popped their slingshots for a 4-3 victory in the second game of a double-header Friday night.

The Red Sox took the opener 5-0 behind Earl Wilson's six-hit effort before Radatz was beaten for the first time since May 12. Oddly, both of Radatz' losses on a 12-2 record have been to Washington. He has been every other club in the American League.

Making his 46th appearance, the 6-foot-5, 235-pound Radatz continued to be in his fast ball, but showed signs of weakening under the constant cauld. In his last two outings, he has been roughed up for four runs and six hits in 3 2-3 innings.

Roberts Tops Yanks

While Washington was peppering Radatz, Robin Roberts again turned in an effective performance against his former New York teammates, beating the American League-leading Yankees for the third straight time, 5-3.

The Chicago White Sox moved to within seven games of the top by beating the Los Angeles Angels 5-1. Jim Hall drove in five runs in Minnesota's 10-3 walloping of Kansas City and Detroit made the most of Rocky Colavito's talents for a 10-9 edge over Cleveland.

Wilson, 9-11 for the season, backed his own pitching in the opener with a three-run homer that put it out of reach before the Senators' newly acquired reliever, Ed Roebuck, came on to stop the Red Sox.

Trailing 3-0 in the nightcap, the Senators struck for four runs in the seventh. Radatz came on after Jim King's two-run triple and gave up a sacrifice fly to Chuck Hinton that tied the score. He wound up a loser when Larry Osborne singled, moved to second on a walk and scored on Don Zimmer's single. Steve Ridzik was the winner.

Roberts, released by the Yankees without throwing a pitch in competition last season, spaced seven hits to bring his record to 10-9. Joe Powell tagged Whitey Ford, 16-5 for a first-inning homer, then the Orioles put it away with a three-run fourth.

Rookie Tom McCrav stroked a triple and two singles, stole a base and scored three runs for the White Sox and Juan Pizarro, 13-5, after limiting the Angels to seven hits.

Monticello TD Pays Record of $37,116.10

MONTICELLO—Johnny Edmunds brought home 5 to 1 outsider First Nighter in the eighth race last night at Monticello to clinch a $37,116.10 twin double return—a new all-time high payoff on the four-race wagering system for New York State. There was only one winner.

The winning combination was composed of numbers 7-1 and 6-5.

First Nighter was one of five horses eligible in the eighth; the other two having no combinations sold on them would have resulted in consolation payoffs. First Nighter paid $13.20.

The big payoff was set up when Mr. Simpson, the 24 to 1 longest-priced horse on the board, captured the seventh dash for a $51.40 payoff.

Other winners in the pool were Stanley Hanover ($9.90) in the fifth and Eleanor's Last Boy ($4.30) in the sixth. The new payoff erased the former mark of $26,691.70 paid off on July 18 of this season at Monticello.

30 Killed, 100 Hurt in Uruguay Railroad Mishap

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — At least 30 persons were killed and more than 100 injured Friday night in a passenger train derailment which the state-owned railroad said was staged by saboteurs.

The three-coach train, carrying 200 passengers, veered onto a siding at 45 miles an hour and smashed into freight cars parked at a fertilizer plant.

Crews worked through the night to rescue passengers trapped in the twisted coaches along the little-used siding in a suburb eight miles from Montevideo.

Juan C. Funes, president of Uruguay's National Railroad, said that "criminal hands forced the lock of the track points system" and held the switch open by placing stones between the rails and the switch lever, shunting the train onto the siding.

Another railroad official said the saboteurs also had placed heavy rocks on the tracks. Engineer Nestor Martinez said he had seen the switch was pointed the wrong way about 20 yards before the train reached the siding. He said he slammed on the brake but it was too late.

The coaches snapped from the locomotive and were smashed. The engine hurtled into the freight cars.

The siding turned off the main track at a sharp angle. Martinez said freight trains using the siding negotiate the turn at 10 miles an hour.

Bodies were taken to a nearby army barracks and morgues for identification.

Railroad detectives said the sabotage had been planned meticulously but they had no idea who had done it.

The train was on a 60-mile run from Montevideo to Casapa, a small town in Canelones Province.

Business Week in Review

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS

NEW YORK (AP) — A hearty glow was cast over the American business scene this week by reports that second-quarter profits hit a record high pace.

General Motors, U.S. Steel and Dow Chemical Co. were among firms reporting booming activity, contributing to evidence that over-all earnings were up about 16 per cent from the same period of 1962.

Meanwhile, the stock market broke a string of 14 Blue Mondays, new construction contract statistics showed continued vigor, manufacturers' sales hit a new record and employment hit an all-time high of 70.9 million while unemployment declined to 5.6 per cent.

Not All Cheery

Not all news was cheery, however. Steel output dropped to its lowest level of the year and retail sales slipped 1 per cent from the previous week for the second straight decline — though they stayed above a year ago.

Also, two time-bomb problems continued to tick away. A nationwide rail strike still threatened, though efforts were made to push the deadline back another 60 days from the present Aug. 29 date.

And the difficulties of balancing international accounts continue to press with a new study criticizing the tax on sales of foreign securities recommended as one treatment by President Kennedy.

Price activity attracted attention during the week, with the consumer price index hitting a record 106.6, farm product prices rising 1.66 per cent in a month, clothing makers' telling of fall rises of about 5 per cent, zinc prices rising while some copper goods fell, and sugar continuing to slide off its spring peak.

GM Is Star

General Motors, the world's biggest auto maker, was the star of new second-quarter profit reports. The firm set records for both sales and earnings for both the quarter and the half. Profits were $464 million for the April-June quarter. Other carmakers, reporting earlier, also showed strong gains as an auto boom continued.

The First National City Bank's survey of 952 nonfinancial corporations shows a second quarter rise of about 16 per cent from the previous second quarter and a 12 per cent hike from the previous quarter.

The Wall Street Journal computes that such a rise could carry second quarter after-tax corporate earnings to a rate of more than $28 billion a year, topping the all-time record rate of $27.7 billion in the final quarter of 1950.

Industries figuring largest in this rise include, with autos, oil, steel, building products, aircraft.

Two Men Injured In Rt. 32 Mishap

While demonstrating a sports car Friday night, the owner of the vehicle and a prospective buyer were injured as the car went out of control on a Route 32 curve at Flatbush.

Trooper Robert Houghtaling of Kingston State Police sub-station, reported the car was operated by Victor T. Hake, 31, of the Country Club Estate, Kingston. He was accompanied by Kenneth Waters, 28, of 13 Mountain View Avenue, Saugerties.

Both men were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance Service. Hake suffered fractured ribs and possible injuries of the shoulders and arms. Waters was treated for injuries of the hands and back.

According to a spokesman for the ambulance service, Hake had advertised for the sale of his sports car, and Waters inquired about the vehicle. The spokesman said Hake and Waters went for a trial run in the vehicle, which was involved in the accident shortly after 7 p. m.

The car was a 1962 Chevrolet, a two-door coupe, with a top down.

The car was driven by Hake, who was 31 years old, single, and a resident of Kingston.

Waters, who was 28 years old, single, and a resident of Saugerties, was also injured.

The car was damaged and was towed to a nearby garage.

The accident occurred on Route 32, just south of the intersection with Route 9.

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N.Y. (AP) — The St. Lawrence Seaway Patrol will set up permanent headquarters at a 14-acre estate on Wellesley Island overlooking a dangerous section of the Seaway.

The U.S. Coast Guard announced Friday that the estate, which includes a 30-room mansion and is called Cragside, was purchased for $50,000 from Scott E. Allen of Hollywood, Calif.

A closed-circuit television will be installed in the mansion as a means of maintaining watch on a dangerous 15-mile section of the Seaway between Bartlett Point and the Whiskey Island Shoal, the Coast Guard said.

The patrol now is quartered at the post office here.
